

100
Thousand

Poets
for Change

This year's Global Event - September 29th, 2012!

Poets around the world are planning individual events to take place simultaneously on September 29th in a demonstration/celebration of poetry, art and music to promote social, environmental, and political change.

So far, over 450 cities representing 100 countries have signed up to make this year's global initiative a success through poetry readings, public demonstrations, community picnics, awareness events, parades, concerts, and more!

Do you want to participate in an event?

Do you want to organize something in your area?

Do you want to learn about what happened last year?

Visit www.100TPC.org

for complete details about

100 Thousand Poets for Change

Write us at walterblue@bigbridge.org if you are interested in organizing or being a part of this global event!

Join Us!